Does it seem like no matter what you say it often falls on deaf ears? In this timely and much-needed presentation, Paul will provide you with practical and easy to learn strategies for the next time you face this type of challenge with your child. Have confidence in knowing what to say, and how to say it.

Paul is a Christian Marriage and Family Therapist for the Gundersen/St. Joseph Healthcare and an instructor for the University of Wisconsin-Platteville and the Love and Logic Institute of Golden, CO. His experience with children and their families comes as a result of working over 30 years as a therapist and educator in the United States, North Vietnam and Russia. He currently teaches a variety of workshops and courses throughout the United States on the topic of children and behavioral issues.

His workshops are lighthearted and filled with practical ideas to use with children. His information, skills and strategies that will be offered will help you to immediately feel more in control. Paul is also a former principal and classroom teacher. He and his wife are the parents of four children.

Wednesday, November 8th, 6:30-8:00 pm Table Mound Library.

See You There!
